Week's Picture Shows OFFERINGS AT LOCAL HOUSES

Secial Talmadge Feature.

Serma Talmadge is seen in a special production, "The Isle of Conquest."

Jaich is being released by the Select Pictures Corporation at the Bijou this week. "The Isle of Conquest" is an adaptation by John Emerson and Anita cos from Arthur Hornblow's novel. "By Right of Conquest." In the cast with Miss Talmadge are such well-known screen actors as Wyndham Standing, Charles Gerard, Elder Hopper, Natalie Talmadge, Claire Whitney, Garreth Hughes and Joe Smiley.

Anita Stewari at Bluebird.

The most tensely dramatic and fascinating drama of back stage life ever written is brought to the screen by Vitagraph in The Painted World, starring Anita Stewart, which will be seen at the Bluebird today and tomorrow. The story was written by Jacques Futrelle, one of the greatest creators of dramatic situations of the day, whose career was ended on the threshold of greatest distinction when the Titanic was destroyed. Four screen artists of nation-wide reputation and popularity support Anita Stewart in this master drama of theatrical life. They are E. K. Lincoln, Julia Swayne Gordon, Charles Kent and Harry Northrup. Anita Stewart at Bluebird.

Firds Pot of Gold.

In "Chasing Rainbows." a William Fox production. Gladys Brockwell, at the Colonial Theater today and tomorrow, adds another successful play to her already long list. As Sadie, a waitress, in "Chasing Rainbows," Miss Brockwell presented a potent personality in a Western desert town. Victim of a broken heart, Sadie refused to be vanquished, and not only rises above her sorrow, but lends a helping hand to all who need it. After some startling situations, into which Miss Brockwell puts her best acting, Sadie finally finds the pot of gold at the end of her rainbow. "Secret Society," a snappy Briggs Paramount comedy, and a Burton Holmes Travelogue, "Around About London," are added attractions.

Picture Prom Life.

Much of the material in Stewart Edward White's famous novel, "The Westerners," which appears in a big special screen production at the Isls Theater this week, is taken from life, as is the case with all of Major White's novels. He tells an interesting little anecdote about one of the characters he knew when, as a young man, he himself took part in the Black Hills gold rush, with which "The Westerner" deals. This man served as a prototype of one of the important characters in the film and novel.

John Barrymore at Odeon.

As a special production the Odeon today offers John Barrymore in "The Test of Honor," an unusual dramatic production, in which this famous stage and screen star is seen in a role which has won him unstinted praise from press and public. It is a powerful dramatic creation with tense situations throughout.

Earle Fox an Bridegroem.

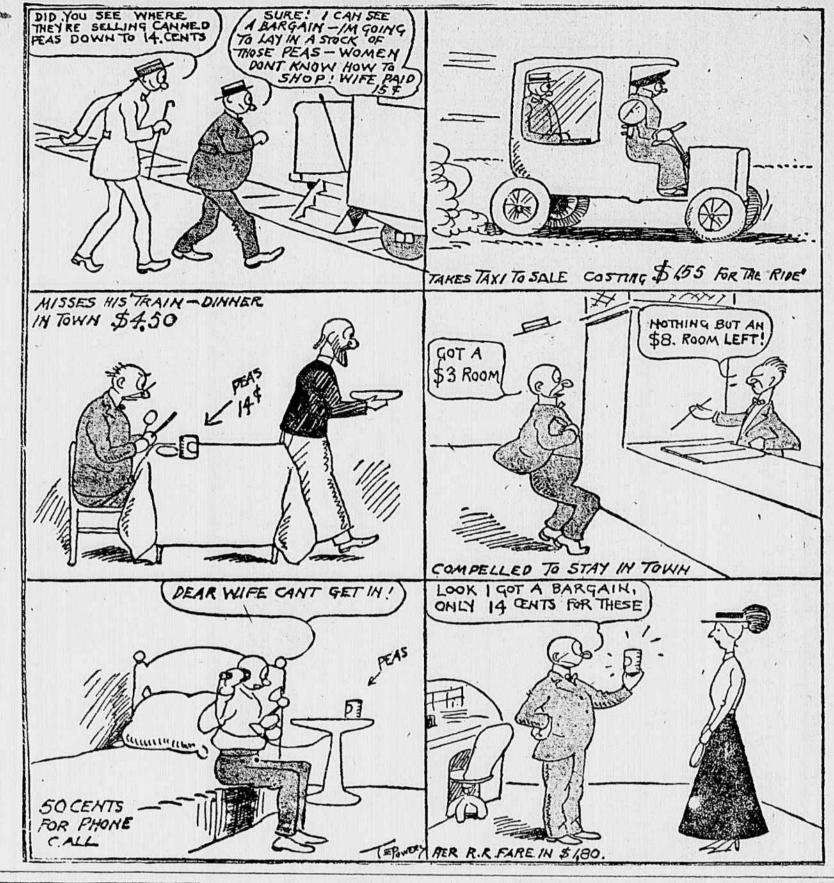

Earle Fox's role in "The Honeymoon" at the Victor again today offers an opportunity for him to display his best talents as the bridegroom, who is distracted from the business in hand, so to speak, by his secret pledge to help his newly acquired brother-in-law. How his "evert" acts arouse the suspicions of his own high-strung wife, and how he finally explains everything to her complete satisfaction makes a bit of character work which Mr. Fox puts over with signal success, to the great glee of the audience, and proves him a fitting foil for the captivating Constance Talmadge. "Are Married Policemen Safe?" a Fox Sunshine comedy, is the supplemental feature.

THE DAY'S GOOD STORIES

Expected a High Dive.

"Then you don't want her advertised as a diva?"

"Make it a coloraturo soprano, and let it go at that. The last time I advertised a diva I had to refund considerable money to people who were expecting an aquatic exhibition."

"Too Much Scenery.

"The Towers" had begun to look like being a white elephant, so far as the 'estate agent was concerned, even in these days of house shortage. But this time it really did look as if there was a chance of selling the property.

Nonessential.

The returned soldier pushed aside the elaborate array of knives, forks and spoons beside his plate, retaining only one of each. "Too much equipment to keep clean," he smilingly remarked to his hostess.

"There's architecture for you!" cried the latter, "There's country! I tell you, sir." he added, waxing cloquent, "there isn't a finer residence on earth than this, Just look at the wonderful scenery!"

"The scenery's all right," gloomily responded ittle Mr. Brown, who was looking for a home. "The only trouble to my mind is that there's too much of it between here and my office in the city."
